ANTIOCH RANKS AS TOP SCHOOL IN DRIVING TEST

Highest of Ten Which Have Taken Examination on Highway Safety

Tabulation of the answers of Antioch High school students to the traffic test given last week by state highway officials showed the local school as having the highest mark of the 10 that have thus far taken the examination.

Most surprising result, to many, will be the fact that of the 18 students whose answers were graded perfect, 15 were girls. That should give the superior male, who always scoffs at "women drivers", something to think about.

The safety program, conducted at the high school by State Safety Engineer, Paul J. Walburg and Highway Officer Edward Edmonds, was opened with the showing of a film entitled "You Bet Your Life".

Adventures of Ozzie. It followed the course of a fellow named "Ozzie," who never did anything right behind the wheel of an auto, always depending upon the vigilance of "the other fellow" to save him. As usually happens in real life, a series of accidents finally put "Ozzie" behind the "eight ball"—and the jail bars.

Following the picture all the students were given the written test, consisting of 25 questions on highway safety. The following students were rated 100 per cent:

Children's Scores 100

R. H. Childers was the only faculty member with a perfect score.

After the written examination all the students and faculty members were tested for ability to judge distance and road traffic signs and their eyes tested for color blindness, visual keenness and sharpness of image.

Of the 245 students who were examined, all passed the color blindness test, 16 failed in visual keenness and sharpness of image and 85 failed in the distance-judging test. The results, Mr. Walburg pointed out, emphasize the need for extra precautions when estimating the distance of oncoming cars.

In expressing thanks to Principal L. O. Bright for his cooperation, Mr. Walburg asserted that much of the responsibility for cutting down the present appalling death rate on the highways rests upon the young people who are just beginning to drive cars. "The driver of today never had the opportunity of learning the correct way of operating an automobile," he remarked, "but our present school students are being well educated along this line."

He added that the book, "Main and the Motor Car," which is being used as the text in Antioch High school is likewise being used in 278 other schools in the state.

Alterations Completed at Dal-Ray Food Store

Art Dalziel and Ray Van Patten, co-proprietors of the Dal-Ray grocery store, this week completed alterations that have been in process at their place of business since the middle of last month.

The boys moved the rear shelves and refrigerator farther toward the back of the store, providing some 125 square feet of additional floor space, constructed a double counter in the center and have added some new racks and display cases.

Shelves holding the grocery goods have been refinished in black.

The young business partners have been operating the store for only six months, but already have built up a faithful clientele and have modernized their store in many ways.

Horan Announces Mail Train Schedule

Again admonishing patrons to mail Christmas packages and letters early, Postmaster James Horan this week announced the schedule of out-going mail trains as follows:

Daily except Sunday and Monday mornings, all mail received between 6:00 p. m. and 5:50 a. m. leaves Antioch on Train No. 18 at 6:10 a. m. Daily including Sunday all mail received in local postoffice by 6:00 p. m. leaves on train No. 2 at 8:40 p. m.

Bradley Discounts Threat of Fascism, Communism in U.S.

"Democracy will ultimately survive all obstacles," predicted Dr. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's church of Chicago, in addressing the members of the Men's Civic club and the Professional and Business Women's club last Thursday night.

"Inherent good will always survive," he declared, "where the will to survive is strong." He blamed the failure of capital and labor to work together as responsible for the present threat to democracy.

Dr. Bradley also condemned the Allies for placing politicians around the peace table following the World War, instead of economists and political scientists. "The Allies won the War," he stated, "but they lost the Peace."

Neither Fascism nor Communism can ever be established in America, he asserted, because Americans have experienced personal freedom and will never accept regimentation. But to promptly dispel the threat, Dr. Bradley concluded, capital and labor must work together to gain this end that both so deeply desire.

The two business clubs held a joint dinner at the high school preceding the address. Dr. Bradley was brought to Antioch for the meeting by the Business Women's organization.

Murrie's New Station Plans Formal Opening

Murrie's new super-service station at the corner of Main street and Park avenue will be formally opened Saturday. The public has been invited to visit the new, $8,000 building on that day to examine the modern, car-servicing facilities which make the station the last word in efficiency.

Pavors will be presented to visitors during the grand opening, according to an advertisement of the Standard Oil company which appears in this issue of the News.

Erected on the same site as Antioch's first "drive-in" filling station, the opening of the new building marks the high point of R. L. Murrie's twenty-year-old years of association with the Standard Oil company. He first entered the service of that company over two decades ago as distributor for the Antioch territory, when this community had only two curb gasoline pumps.

The new station covers 28x40 feet and contains a modern display room, wash room and greasing racks, modern heating plant and rest rooms.

BETTY GRIMES CITED IN D. A. R. CONTEST

Chosen Antioch Representative in Good Citizenship Competition

Betty Grimes, Antioch High school senior, was named last week to represent the local school in a nationwide Good Citizenship contest, which is being conducted for the fourth year by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Selection was made on the basis of Dependability, Service, Leadership, and Patriotism. Students of the senior class elected three girls from their number—Mabel Simonsen and Valeta Baethke besides Miss Grimes—whose names were submitted to the faculty for selection of the Antioch representative. The faculty abided by the choice of the students in choosing Miss Grimes, who had received the most class votes.

Get Free Trip

Each of the 48 states will draw one name from the list of school winners, and these girls will be rewarded with a free trip to the 1938 D. A. R. convention which will be held in Washington.

The Waukegan chapter of the D. A. R. is sponsoring the Citizenship contest in five Lake county schools this year; besides Antioch, girls have been chosen at Waukegan, Libertyville, Warren High of Grunee and Fox Lake. Miss Elizabeth Webb of Antioch is chairman of the committee in charge.

Pins to Winners

These girls and other winners from Illinois will be honored at a dinner on the opening night of the state D. A. R. conference, and each of the school candidates will be awarded a Good Citizenship pin.

Bertha "Dolly" Peterson, who graduated last spring, was the Antioch candidate in 1936. In all, 314 Illinois schools elected representatives and it is expected that even more candidates will be nominated this year.

COUNTY BOARD ORDERS ACTION ON ZONING PLAN

Instructs Joint Committee to Devise Measure to Cost $5,000 or Less

Zoning of Lake county once more appeared probable Tuesday as the county supervisors, prodded by complaints from many quarters on ac-instructed the finance committee of count of their hedging on the matter, the board to confer with the zoning commission to draft an ordinance involving an expense of not more than $5,000.

Assured by Robert Kingery, general manager of the Chicago Regional Planning commission, that an effective plan could be put into operation at no more than the proposed $5,000, the board had little excuse for further refusal to act.

With three resolutions in hand, from two cities and a village, calling for a county zoning measure, and blunt requests to the same effect from a labor union and an influential association of business men—not to mention numerous individual pleas, there was little else the supervisors could do.

Cites Kane Plan

In support of his cost estimate, Kingery cited the success of Kane county in mapping out a satisfactory zoning measure at a cost of only $5,000. He assured the board that his organization would also assist in every possible way to cut the cost of the Lake county plan to less than the specified figure.

Asked by Supervisor Frank Burke if farm land would be affected, Kingery stated that land used exclusively for agricultural purposes would be placed under no restrictions.

The planning expert urged that the board accomplish as much as possible under the "interim ordinance" now in effect, pending adoption of a permanent ordinance to restrict "auto graveyards" and like enterprises.

Motion by Kelsey

On a motion by Supervisor Harold D. Kelsey the matter was referred to the finance committee and zoning commission who will be expected to present a plan for consideration at the January meeting of the board.

The finance committee is composed of Supervisors Van Patten, Fenlon, Piffant, Steele and Heenges. On the zoning commission are: John J. Hogan of Waukegan, Attorney Harold J. Tallett of North Chicago, Supervisor Anderson, Jr., of Wadsworth, James Van Dusen, Jr., of Lake Forest, Ray B. Dixon of Grunee, Lloyd Graham of Barrington and T. R. Wyles of Highland Park.

R. M. Lobdell, county superintendent of highways, will attend the conferences.

Services Held Today for Wm. Bonner, 77, Resident of Millburn

Funeral rites for William A. Bonner, 77, of Millburn were held this afternoon in the Millburn Community church, followed by burial in the Millburn cemetery.

Mr. Bonner died suddenly of a blood clot about 4:30 Monday afternoon as he was in his car with Mrs. Bonner, about to leave his home on an errand.

Characterized by a friend as a "virtual walking Book of Facts to both the older and the younger generations" on account of his unusual memory, he was greatly admired and respected in the Millburn community, where he spent his entire life. His absence from the church will be felt particularly as he had established an extraordinary record for both attendance and beneficence.

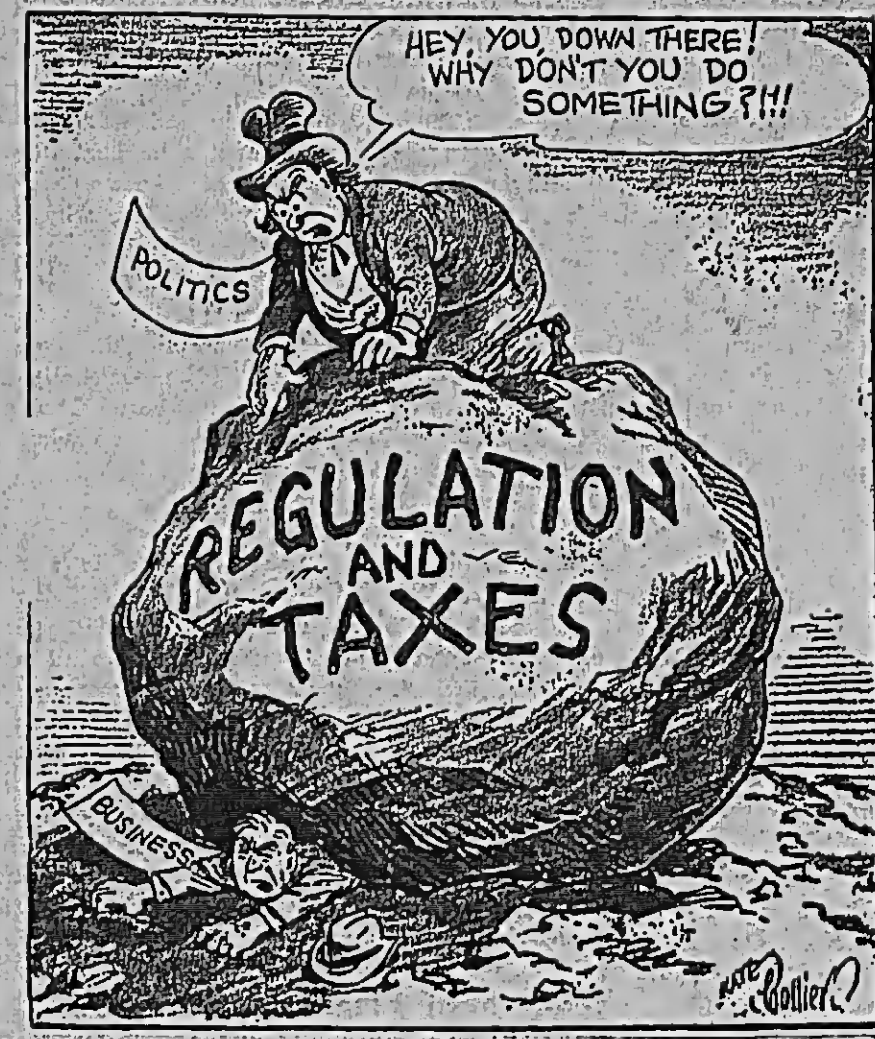

Born to James and Margaret Anderson Bonner on Sept. 4, 1860, William Bonner spent all but 11 years of his life on the family homestead, which he farmed up to the time of his retirement in 1926. At that time he moved from the Bonner farm south of Millburn to a smaller home west of the village.

In 1922 Mr. Bonner married Minnie Dennon McGuire. He is survived by his wife; a step-son, Ralph D. McGuire of Millburn; a step-daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Atwell of Lake Villa; a brother, James H. Bonner of Millburn; and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart of Grunee and Mrs. Mina Gilbert of Waukegan.

The entire Millburn community joins in extending sincere sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

Miss Jennie DeBoer of Grunee spent last week at the Theodore Donper home.

TAKE THE BOULDER OFF HIS BACK

Auxiliary to Give Flags to School and Sons of Legion

The Antioch grade school and the local Sons of Legion are to receive flags from the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary, it was voted by the local unit at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Evan Kaye. Presentation of the flags will be made at an early date.

Cards were the diversion of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Lester Osmond, Mrs. John Horan and Mrs. Erma Powles. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kaye and her co-hostesses, Mrs. Paul Ferris and Mrs. Margaret Roof to the 22 members present. Christmas presents were exchanged.

The next meeting in January will be held at Legion hall and the social meeting at the home of Mrs. Lester Osmond.

Hit-and-Run Driver Kills "Art Sullivan"

He called himself "Art Sullivan" and claimed Racine, Wisconsin as his home. Outside of that little is known of the hobo who met violent death beneath the wheels of an unidentified hit-and-run car near State Line Inn north of Antioch late last Saturday afternoon.

His body lies in the Strang Funeral Home, but so far no relative has claimed it nor could the Racine police authorities identify it. Apparently "Art" is destined to join the host of unknown dead, which lie in Potter's Field.

Horribly mangled, but still alive, "Art" was carried by ambulance to the County Hospital at Waukegan, after lying for some 45 minutes where he had been thrown by the impact of the auto. Examination revealed one leg broken in two places—a crushed chest—a fractured skull. Between 4 and 5 o'clock the following morning death brought the wanderer's hapless career to a close.

"Art" was a more or less familiar figure in Antioch. In recent years he had found a night's lodging in the city jail on 12 or 15 occasions. He has spent Saturday "hitting" local merchants for "coffee and doughnut (?) money."

Winter's a tough time for the Brotherhood of Wary Willies. No sleeping in haystacks then. No fishing of vegetables from truck gardens along the highway for a mess of Muligan stew. Merely to keep alive is a problem—and there's little fun in just "existing."

Maybe fate wasn't so unkind to "Art" at that.

New Equipment, Scenery Ordered for Photo Studio

Bert Dickey has been busy the past few weeks remodeling his photo studio, located in his home on north Main street. The room has been enlarged, woodwork redecorated and a number of changes made in its arrangement to modernize the interior.

Mr. Dickey has ordered new scenery and backgrounds, along with new lighting equipment of the latest design, which will make it possible to produce photographs of the highest quality.

Work is not yet quite completed, but Mr. Dickey hopes to have the rest of the refinishing done and new equipment installed soon after the holidays.

DAIRY MARK SET BY COLD SPRING FARM HEADS LIST

Herd Improvement Association Issues Report for 1936-37

Cold Spring Farm, owned by Clement Brothers, led the members of Lake County Herd Improvement association No. 1 in butter fat production during 1936-37 with a herd average of 430.1 pounds and boasted the best individual producer for the period. Their champion registered Holstein, Colantha Prilly Segis Josephine, gave 15,264 pounds of milk and 5,952 pounds of butter fat.

Records of the association for the past year were released for publication today by Oren Nash, now an employee of the Antioch Milk Producers association but who was tester for the Herd Improvement group up to the close of its business year last fall.

Nash states that the records of the Herd Improvement association failed to equal high marks of previous years, primarily because of the prevailing shortage of feed over the period covered. Despite this fact, however, the group's averages of 8,893 pounds of milk and 334.5 pounds of butter fat per cow were appreciably over the state averages of 7,980 and 309.4, respectively, of the year before.

Lowest Cost Record

The most economical production record of the year was established by Wray Brothers Farm, which showed a cost of 20.4 cents per pound of butter fat. Production costs of other herds ran from 21.1 cent to 36.3.

During the year, the total milk production of the 21 herds in the improvement unit reached the amazing amount of 3,382,722 pounds. But great as this amount seems, according to Nash it would barely supply the needs of Chicago alone for a single day.

Average butter fat production per cow attained by the various members of the association follows: Cold Spring Farm—430.1; Henry Knigge—395.5; Wray Bros.—383.0; Herman Dunker—363.1; L. O. Hutchins—355.3; M. J. Coltrin—345.2; W. J. Swayer—343.5; H. L. Kapple—335.7; George Lickam—333.9; Wm. Mitchell Farm, 324.7.

Production Averages

Wirtz Bros.—323.4; Clarence Crowley—321.6; W. A. Singer—319.4; C. A. Faulkner—317.1; George Vose—316.9; E. C. Ellsbury—312.8; Martin Olsen—303.9; H. K. Vose—303.1; Mrs. Ethel Waldman—301.5; Albert Simonsen—300.1; Wells Farm—256.2.

Best records of individual cows (abbreviations—registered or grade Holstein or Guernsey): Cold Spring's Colantha, R. H.—15,264 pounds of milk, 5,952 pounds of butter fat; Knigge's No. 32, G. G.—11,058 and 4,947; Knigge's No. 20, G. G.—11,710 and 4,916.

Dunker's Nancy, R. H.—11,115 and 4,789; Cold Spring's Rnjo Lady, R. H.—13,709 and 4,779; Cold Spring's Enpress, R. H.—14,097 and 4,716; Swayer's Arcola, R. H.—12,946 and 4,681; Hutchins' Peggy, G. H.—12,278 and 4,663; Hutchins' Susie, R. H.—12,191 and 4,639; Dunker's Tan Olie, R. H.—13,226 and 4,619.

Profits Are Low

Of the 494 cows tested, 48 produced over 400 pounds of butter fat last year. The average butter fat content for the combined herds was 3.76 per cent.

According to the report the average value of a single cow's product was $187.16, against $81.56 per cow for feed and an estimated equal amount for other expenses. This left an average profit per cow of only $24.04.

The purpose of the Herd Improvement association, Nash explains, is to make it possible for the members to produce their dairy goods at the lowest possible cost per animal while obtaining the highest quality possible. To this end the data presented in the annual report is collected through monthly check-ups which indicate any mistakes being made in management of the various herds.

Antioch Woman Winner in Nation-Wide Contest

Mrs. Mary Willie of Antioch was among 300 persons listed last week as prize winners in the tenth of a series of nation-wide letter-writing contests conducted some time back by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company. Appropriately enough, considering the weather, the prize was a fine, woolen double blanket.

Mrs. Willie won her award by extolling the virtues of a brand of evaporated milk.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dooper were Kenosha shoppers on Thursday.

America Is Choosing

The news from Washington is filled these days with reports of Congress resisting new demands for burdens upon business and seeking instead the means of changing the tax laws and otherwise encouraging private enterprise to go ahead with expansions of plans and employment.

If there is one fact that stands out above all else in the Capitol it is that Congressmen and Senators have definitely put away the "rubber stamp" and decided to do more than vote "yes." They are not only reviewing carefully legislation laid before them but are showing signs of initiating their own bills such as the repeal of the surplus profits tax which penalizes expansions of industry out of which employment comes.

Often it is not what happens in Washington that is significant but what caused the action. And in this instance there is general agreement that the cause is traceable back to the grass roots of America; to the small towns from which so many members of Congress come back to the backbone of the Nation.

While they were home the legislators obviously heard that the people were beginning to look about them and wonder "what's going on here." Since they returned for the special session, there has been a surprising flow of mail into the Capitol urging a return to sound principles, a decrease in spending and aid rather than harassment of business.

The change in Congressional sentiment is measurable by what the mailman brings. If this flow of mail grows as it did in the Supreme Court fight, Congress will respond.

Today more than in years Senators and Congressmen are looking to their constituents for an expression of their will. The people, in turn, are looking to Congress for direct action to end the slump by aiding employment.

Is Capital on Strike?

As business drifts further downward and unemployment increases there is heard time and again the report that "capital is on strike." This, if true, would mean that those who have money to invest are not investing.

Common sense alone answers that. People who have money accumulated it by making each dollar they had earn another dollar. They seek profit and risk their principal on the chance of making the profit. And until human nature has been completely legislated out of existence, there will be no "strike of capital" so long as that capital is given the opportunity to flow into legitimate investment.

What is wrong with investment monies then out of which come expansions and more employment?

Have you ever heard the story of Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model, and the Villain?

In the first chapter, the Villain tied Nellie to the railroad track. In the second chapter he beat her up. In the third he threw her in front of a buzz saw. And in the last chapter, climax he asked, "Nellie, why don't you trust me?"

They Need Your Help

Christmas holidays are "just around the corner." The yuletide spirit reigns supreme. Mistletoe, holly, and the pungent, fresh greenness of new-born Christmas trees will soon cheer millions of homes. Shop windows, chock full of all sorts of tempting gifts, bedecked with tinsel and trimmings, are exciting portents of the fun to come.

Adding to the general atmosphere, but in a more serious vein, are the tinkling bells of the Salvation Army, and the double-barred cross, emblem of the Anti-tuberculosis movement, which is so familiar to all of us on the friendly little Christmas seals that ornament our packages and cards. Both of them appear at this time of year almost as magically as Santa Claus himself—and equally as indispensable as agents of good cheer.

Don't neglect either of them! They need your help, as do the souls less fortunate than yourself whom they represent, and whom they strive each year, to bring within the great fold of gaiety which envelops the nation during the Christmas season.

What Sent Prices Skyrocketing

The Federal Trade Commission has been ordered to make an immediate investigation of reports that monopolistic methods and other unwholesome methods of competition have contributed to the sharp rise in the cost of living this year.

That is a laudable activity. But isn't it also possible that the government's policy of killing pigs and reducing crops, plus shorter hours and higher wages, plus artificially restricted factory output per man, have had something to do with higher prices?

150 Specimens Added to Will Rogers Museum

The Will Rogers Museum at Camp Lake has had added to its collection over 150 interesting and educational specimens as a result of a tour through central western states by W. H. Dillon and Adjutant Z. A. Wiley, who returned Saturday after a 3,282 mile auto trip in which they visited seven states and scores of towns and points of interest.

The travelers visited Indian reservations in Iowa, Nebraska and saw the mountain caves in the Ozark region in Missouri, visited the Indian country in Oklahoma, and the zinc mines in Arkansas. They collected Indian arrow heads, cowboy relics and a branding iron from Will Rogers' ranch; also many ore specimens, quartz crystals, and stalactites from caves.

Dillon is managing director of the Downtown Boys Club in Newark, N. J., but for the past several months he has been assisting Adj. Wiley with the museum collection for the Rogers Shagbark camp.

Lake Villa School Notes

We are all very busy decorating and practicing plays for our Christmas Season. We have decorated our room, the office and the library. Clarence Bennecke made bells to decorate the light in the hall by the fire escape. We have chains in all the windows in the library and our room.

Our play for the program is entitled "A Christmas Eve Adventure." There will be several poems and readings from our room also.

The P. T. A. business meeting will be held at 7:30 P. M. on Monday, December 20, instead of the usual time of 8:00 because we have such a long program. We hope the program will be started by 8:15. The band will play, too, which will make it more interesting and we hope to see a large crowd of people here that night.

Luella Petersen was a happy girl December 10 when a little baby brother was born.

Johnnie Meyer has a new pretty blue sweater today; and he was the only boy in our room who wore a tie; and he looked very nice.

We all had lots of fun skating over the week-end.

Friday, December 17, Mr. Dixon's room is having a skating party.

Leo Buchta is drawing a very nice big ship on the easel.

We are having our Christmas party Wednesday, December 22, which of course is limited to school children. Thursday afternoon, Mr. Mitchell, a lecturer and traveler from Oak Park gave a very interesting program for the school children on Yellowstone National Park where he was once a forest ranger. He showed many slides and brought antlers from several animals which are found there. This program was enjoyed and much appreciated, even by the first and second graders. It would be nice if we could have more programs like this sponsored by the P. T. A. or the board that will be appreciated by the children as well as educational to them.

Intermediate Room

Marjorie Petersen has a baby brother.

Charles Madsen was a Chicago visitor Thursday. He saw many interesting sights.

We are busy making Christmas gifts.

Primary Room

The primary room is getting three little plays ready for the Christmas program and some songs.

Our attendance is much better now than it has been for the last couple of weeks. We are all here except Rose Mary and Jeannette Slazes, and Dallas Karolius.

We are busy making our Santas and are having much pleasure from them.

The Inns of England
The Inns of England have their foundations in the depths of the Middle Ages. Some of them have seen the almost prehistoric changes from crude earthen floors to stone floors and from stone floors to mats of rushes. They have sheltered kings and pilgrims, merchants and all kinds of travelers, and between the occasions of more spectacular hospitality they have gathered about them all the richness of the social life of the neighborhood, for it is at the Inn that men have always met and expanded a personal and political philosophy.

Work of Trained Food Tasters
Trained food tasters can detect strength difference of less than 10 per cent in flavors, reports the American Chemical Society. Many professional tasters have no keener sensibilities than other people but have developed the ability to observe, analyze and interpret the sensations received to a remarkable degree. Sensitivity to differences in flavor is not increased through practice.

High School to Have Pond for Ice Skating

Construction of a second pond for the use of Antioch ice skating fans is well under way on the athletic field behind the high school building. This, with the rink being made south of the post office under the sponsorship of the American Legion, should provide local skaters with the best facilities the community has ever offered.

The boys of the junior class banked the field at the beginning of the cold spell. Since then the depth of the ice has been gradually increased and a fine, smooth coating should cover the entire area by Christmas, according to R. H. Childers who is supervising the work.

Little progress has been made toward coating the Legion rink, although a large amount of water was flushed onto the lot the first of the week. Instead of staying on the surface and freezing, the water thawed out the ground and most of it sank in.

The school pond will cover a 200 by 200 foot area when completed. Mr. Childers plans to hold intramural ice hockey competition when the pond is ready for use.

Flood lights and reflectors will be erected around the pond when it is officially opened, so that night skating may be enjoyed.

Obituary of Mrs. Fuhrer
Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at their home last Thursday. The young man and his mother are doing well and his four sisters and one brother gave him a hearty welcome.

Mrs. Flora Edith Pincombe Fuhrer was born at Pleasant Prairie, Wis., August 24, 1867, and passed away at her home in Lake Villa on Dec. 7, 1937. She was married Nov. 21, 1897, to John Fuhrer also of Pleasant Prairie, and they lived in southern Wisconsin until their coming to Lake Villa eleven years ago. They have one daughter, Mrs. John Veasey of Millburn. Mrs. Fuhrer had not been well for some time but was not one to give up to physical ailments, so continued to be about the house until three days before her death. The funeral was held at the church Friday afternoon and burial was in Liberty cemetery near Salem.

Wm. Besides her husband and daughter, she leaves two brothers, one living near Zion and one in Chicago, and one grandson, Charles Veasey.

Where Groom Is Lucky Boy
In Albania the groom, not the bride, gets all the breaks. When he marries his fiancée presents him with a supply of clothing that will last him the rest of his life, according to a correspondent. Albanian brides in Tirana, the capital, give their husbands about 40 pairs of trousers, a like number of shirts and in addition bring with them quantities of hand-woven bed and table linen for their new homes. Among the chief items of the bride's clothing are her pantaloons. The bigger and fuller these are, the more aristocratic the wearer. The wife of an important man will often have as much as 30 yards of material in a single pair of pantaloons.

A '37 Slant on This Week in The News of 1901

EDITORIAL EXCERPTS: "A distinguished French engineer predicts that in ten years coal mining will not pay. There is a strong tendency toward fuel with petroleum as the chief ingredient. Scientists and inventors are giving it close attention."—However, our coal bills this far this year indicate that mining the stuff still pays after a fashion.

"The Paris Globe states that in conversing with President Roosevelt the thing that impresses one most is his intense and thorough Americanism—not hatred of other nations, but an overwhelming desire that our people get the best of everything."—Seems as if we've heard Mussolini and Hitler say the same thing—about Mussolini and Hitler.

Asked the News, "With some one kindly name a measure which has been championed by the Democratic party during the past quarter century that is not dead and buried beyond hope of resurrection?" Well, no, we can't. But there have been a lot of new tombstones erected in the Democratic boneyard in the past five years.

ANTIOCH HAPPENINGS: The house occupied by Len Swagart and owned by Eli Judd, situated northeast of Loom Lake, was burned to the ground and all the household goods destroyed last week. The blaze was apparently started by the Swagart children, who had been playing with matches.

Otto Waldman is spending the Christmas holidays with his wife in the city.

With this week's issue (observed the News), we present to our readers two extra pages containing the advertisements of W. H. Hill, Thayer and Vickers, and J. C. James, Jr. No need to go to Chicago, for they have everything you could possibly need.

The house occupied by Arch Vickers and family, and owned by Andrew Peterson, has been sold to Mrs. G. C. Shugart, who will take possession in the spring. The consideration was $950.

The "curio booth" at the bazaar Dec. 21 will contain many things of interest. Among them will be a cloth from McKinney's bier, cloth from which suits for convicts are made, and a string of ant eggs from South Africa.

Those interested in insurance in the New York Life company can learn something to their advantage by calling on W. T. Hill, Antioch agent. (How insurance agents have changed!)

NEWS NUGGETS: "John D. Rockefeller was in Tarrytown, N. Y., recently, so changed in appearance that his friends scarcely recognized him. He is able to attend to business though he looks very weak."—The old boy was on his last pins, all right. Only lasted another 36 years.

"Nicholas Reel, an old and wealthy citizen of Bucyrus, Ohio, outwitted two confidence men who engaged him in a card game. After he had won $3,300 of their money he declined to have any more to do with them—and returned their cash."—Overconfidence men, we should say.

"Mr. Marconi has accomplished the feat of sending electric signals across the Atlantic. Telegraphic signals of the letter 'S' were transmitted from a station recently erected near the Lizard, in Cornwall, England, and received at St. John's, N. F."—If it was just 's-s-s-s' they wanted, why didn't they audition the Lizard?

An inquiry was being conducted into the actions of Rear Admiral Schley at the Battle of Maine. Said the majority report: "Commodore Schley's conduct in connection with the event of the Santiago campaign prior to June 1, 1898, was characterized by vacillation, dilatoriness and lack of enterprise." The minority report, supported by Admiral Dewey, stated: "Commodore Schley was in absolute command and is entitled to the credit due such a commanding officer for the glorious victory which resulted in the total destruction of the Spanish fleet." Looks like someone must have been wrong.

Flint, Feldspar and Clay - Mix 'em All Up and You Have Dishes Fit for a Queen

Which Is Just What the Antioch Plant of Pickard Inc. Does

Little flakes of feldspar, little grains sand—mixed with finely powdered clay—make chinaware that's grand.

Pretty poor poetry, that is, but it gives in a nutshell what is going on at the plant of Pickard, Inc.—manufacturers of fine chinaware—which was installed in the former Corona Pen factory about 10 months ago.

Until you've talked to A. G. Simon, production manager of Pickard, Inc.—or someone similarly well acquainted with the matter—you would never dream how complicated the process of producing a tea cup really is.

Mr. Simon describes the composition materials of chinaware—flint sand, feldspar and clay—as the bone structure, blood and flesh, respectively, of the finished product. Clay gives body to the mixture, flint gives it strength and the feldspar melts during the baking process and fuses all the ingredients. In the raw state, all of the highly refined substances resemble a fine, white powder.

Most of the materials used at the local factory are domestically produced, but the firm has to import part of the clay from England. Volcanic deposits, usually found only in river beds at a depth of 300 to 600 feet, are the source of the fine, white English clay, and no satisfactory substitute material has been discovered in this country. Feldspar, a mineral, and flint are both plentifully produced in the United States.

It would be useless to try to describe briefly the processes the materials go through before the beautiful, translucent pieces of china are born. A strange mixture of machine processing and skilled craftsmanship is involved as the articles pass through the various departments of the plant.

John Lippert, chief potter, is a skilled craftsman who has been engaged in ceramics for over 30 years. He learned his trade in Germany and has worked in a number of china-ware factories, both in this country and abroad. To his talented hands falls the steps are beyond the capabilities of a machine.

Others on the staff are: Charles Clark, ceramic engineer; John Davidson, mould maker; Edna Lemke, assistant potter; and Clair Elliott, kiln man.

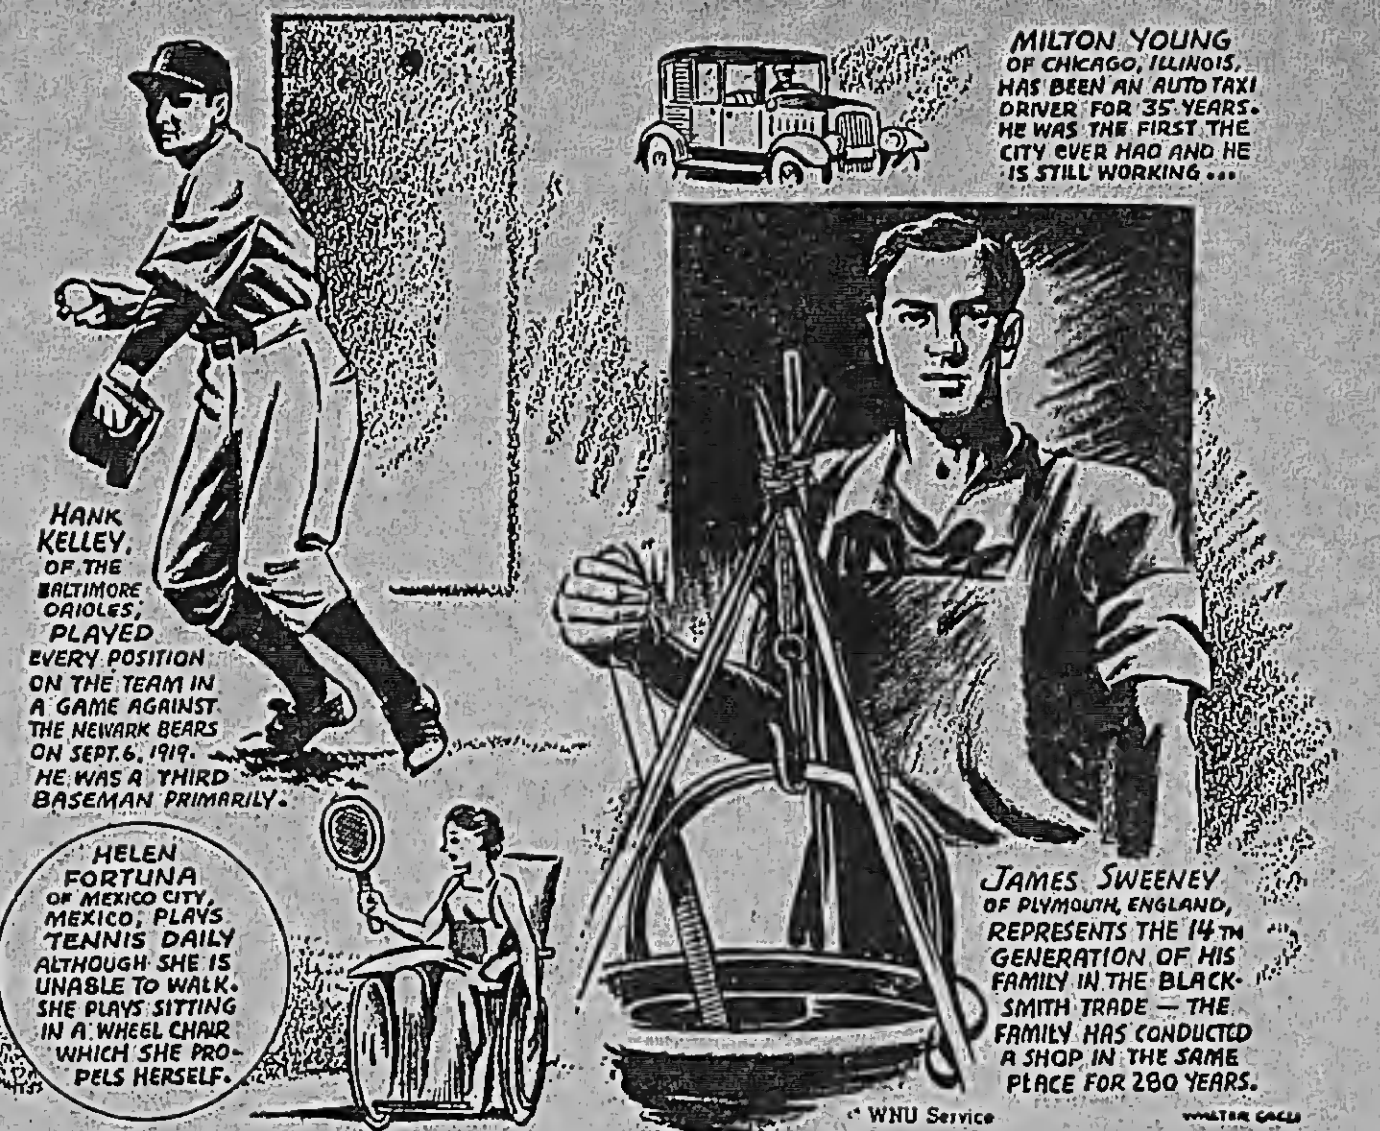

Before the Antioch production plant was established, Pickard Inc. imported all of its china from abroad. Work was confined to decorating the imported pieces. Articles produced wholly by the firm will have their first public exhibition next month at the Pittsburgh China and Glass show.

Mr. Simon states that shipments of chinaware produced in Antioch have been made to Alaska, Hawaii, a number of South American countries—and a few have even been ordered by firms in continental Europe, where most of the world's fine china is produced.

Officials of Pickard Inc. hope to enter into manufacture of lower priced china in time, as the market for their present high quality ware is necessarily limited. When that day arrives, it is probable that the Antioch plant will be expanded and a much larger staff employed.

But until that time, says Mr. Simon, the plant will not worry about large scale production, but will content itself with merely producing "the finest china that can be bought."

Rush of Land Crabs
Probably the maddest migrations in animal life take place in West Africa at a certain time each year when millions of land crabs rush to the seashore to lay their eggs. Closely packed together and traveling at a maximum speed, says Collier's Weekly, they produce a noise, through bumping one another with their hard shells, comparable to that of a cavalry regiment.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 12.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever." (11 Timothy 4:18).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works. The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing. The Lord preserveth all them that love him" (Psalms 145: 9, 15, 16, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is not influenced by man. The 'divine ear' is not an auditory nerve. It is the all-hearing and all-knowing Mind, to whom each need of man is always known and by whom it will be supplied" (p. 7).

constantly to ask: Am I as strong, as clean, as loyal as I should be? Can God depend on me? The prayer, "Search me, O God, and know my heart, try me and know my thoughts, and see if there be any wicked ways in me, and lead me in the way everlasting" was not to enlighten God but for the Psalmist's own benefit. He wanted to know the truth about himself that he might be fitted for service. It was also for Divine direction and companionship through life to its culmination in eternal bliss. All this very aptly expresses the need of the world at present.

Murrie Cagers Win Second League Tilt

Murrie's Service Station quintet won its second consecutive victory in the Benton A. C. basketball league last Thursday, trouncing Sam's Barber Shop team by the decisive score of 36 to 20.

Edith Wolfe's Bar-B-Q outfit kept pace with the undefeated Antioch five, defeating Fieldcrest club 43 to 23. Sabine's Fine Foods dropped the B. B. Sweet Shop 36-15 in the third game.

This evening Murrie's will face the Bar-B-Q boys at the local high school gymnasium in a battle for the league leadership.

Strengthened by the addition of Doug Salisbury, former U. of Illinois player now second team coach at Warren High, and Gene Sheehan, former Antioch varsity man, the Murrie crew completely outclassed the Barbers.

Salisbury, a fine ball handler and expert shot, shared 12 points to lead the scorers in the first game. Steffenburg, at center, tallied 11, while King, McNeil and Sheehan counted for six, three and four respectively.

Tonight's game between Murrie's and Wolfe's for the league leadership promises to be a thriller, with neither team apparently holding an edge. The tilt will start at 7:30. The Barbers and the Sweet Shop crew will meet in the second game, and Fieldcrest and Sabine's will wind up the program.

Town Basketball Team Wins Third Tilt, 30-29

Murrie's high-powered basketball team, playing Monday night at the Antioch town team, kept their season's record unblemished by nailing out Doc King's all-colored team from North Chicago 30-29 in a thriller played at the high school gymnasium.

A pickup team which represented Antioch in the second-string curtain raiser also came out on top, defeating the colored reserves 18 to 13.

King, Steffenburg and Salisbury provided the scoring punch in the game between the "regulars." After scoring 10 points in the opening quarter, King was forced to leave the game because of another engagement. With him absent, the visitors gave the Antioch crew almost more than they could handle and led most of the way.

However, a closing rally led by Steffenburg and Salisbury allowed the local outfit to win the rough and tumble fray and make it three straight for the season.

Armor for All

JESUS of Nazareth came bringing to the world a new concept of brotherhood, co-operation, reciprocity. He taught that an "eye for an eye" and "bade his followers love not only those who loved them, but all. He said (Matthew 5:44): "Love your enemies. . . do good to them that hate you." Some might think this an "idiotic" law—that the expression of love and forgiveness is weakness. Some are afraid to show leniency, lest another take advantage of them. Others are hesitant to arbitrate, lest conciliation be one-sided and partial. Yet no one can study the life of the master Christian without recognizing his power and authority. There was nothing faint-hearted about him, although he used no worldly weapons, but practiced and preached the law of Love.

In commenting on the commandment, "Love one another, as I have loved you," the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, writes (Message to The Mother Church for 1902, p. 18), "No estrangement, no emulation, no deceit, enters into the heart that loves as Jesus loved." Then she asks, "Beloved, how much of what he did are we doing?"

Wars have been common because men have allowed material sense, greed, egotism, selfish ambition, and fear to prevail. Much progress has been made since the olden days when Babel was known as "a man of war," a "tribal god" to be worshipped with fear. A wise man proclaimed (Proverbs 20:3): "It is an honour for a man to cease from strife." Love only can liberate the world. Desire for tranquil, amicable relations with one another is becoming widespread. It is a joy to see the prayer for peace taking possession of families, communities, and nations. World peace will be the far-reaching result of individual love for God which is so deep and pure that it includes all mankind. Indeed, one cannot rightly worship God without practicing loving-kindness to his neighbor.

Paul, who had himself been redeemed and completely regenerated from a life of strife, narrowness, and persecution of innocent persons, stated definitely that our weapons "are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds." Later, reminding the Ephesians of the nature of their equipment "against the wiles of the devil," he told them to put on "the whole armour of God." One of the captions at the top of the chapter in one Bible reads: "The complete armour of a Christian."

Cable Slow to Reach Bottom

Warren to Oppose Sequoits on Friday

"One for the books" should be produced when Antioch battles Warren High of Gurnee tomorrow night on the local court with a share in the Northwest conference basketball leadership at stake.

Warren, with a short but speedy team similar to the Sequoit outfit, bowled over Lake Forest, the defending champs, by a 23-20 count last week. Coach R. H. Childers, who saw the first half of that battle, is not pessimistic over the Sequoit's chances, but has his fingers crossed all the same.

Libertyville upset Warren 23 to 20 in their season opener.

Next Wednesday Antioch will play Niles Center here in what should be another hard-fought game. The suburban five is looked upon as an outstanding contender for this year's unofficial title by virtue of wins over Libertyville and Leyden to date. Tomorrow night the Niles Center crew faces the twice-defeated Barrington basketball team.

Else another undefeated conference quintet is favored to trounce Wauconda Friday night, while the remaining shareholder in the league leadership, Grant High, has an open date.

Deafness Cure Is Found If Patient Can Take It

Condon, Ore.—The main problem seems to be how to get the horse to stand still—and to arrange for the lightning.

Anyhow, John F. Crane, rancher, says that a good jolt of lightning can cure deafness, in horses at least. An old horse of his, he said, was floored by a heavy bolt and struggled to his feet able to hear as well as a colt.

Barnyard Hens Help to Raise Pheasants

Portland, Ore.—China pheasant hunters in the Pacific Northwest can doff their hats to the drab little barnyard setting hen in thanks for their days of good shooting, because without her help their days of good shooting would be few and far between.

You have the word of Frank Wire, Oregon state game supervisor on that point.

Barnyard hens are necessary to pheasant raising, Wire said, because the mother pheasant loses her maternal instinct when in captivity.

Habits of the Kingfisher
The handsome kingfisher digs holes in banks beside streams and lakes. Both male and female take part in the work, and often the hole is five or six feet long. The birds use their bills as well as their claws while digging, and their purpose is to provide a passage to the nest where they will rear their young. The nest is placed in a hollow at the end of the tunnel.

TIPS ON SET-UP OF WINTER FASHIONS

Great Designers Prepare for the Coming Season.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

As the Paris pre-season collections roll by, one can begin to see something of the set-up of winter fashions as it has been conceived by the greater designers of the dressmaking world. And it is a fascinating picture, with details making the highlights, a subtle change in silhouette and conception, a new vision of dressing which adapts the romantic and ladylike details of the end of the century to modern life.

Sports remain straight, simple and pencil-slim — practical but smart. The best note of other days has been managed by Greed with his Directoire shirt blouses borrowed from the men and which make a charming note with his slightly redingote coats and his high double-breasted suits. Day clothes, too, in general prefer this pencil silhouette. While occasionally one hears "how can they get into them without a shoehorn or walk once they are in" the line is smart and effective and certainly we can count on our designers to solve that problem. Suggestions are offered in the soft inverted pleat, unstitched, center front as well as the back vent which reminds one of grandpa's overcoat.

While day dresses adapt the same formula, there is much more variety. The question of the waistline has been neatly avoided in many instances by the soft long bodice or again by a center section, either plain or draped. Again several contrasting bands mark a high, a low and a medium waistline. These are oftenest in ribbon—the ribbon campaign has gone over very well as it should, for it certainly fits into the season's moods. When skirts get away from the pencil, they are either draped fronts—slightly circular in front, or slightly widening all around from gored or circular cut—these oftenest marked by horizontal trimmings as Molyneux uses with his braids.

WOOL PRINT IS NEW

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

If you are alert as to what's new in dress materials you will see to it that your autumn "first" frock will be fashioned of printed wool fabric. It has patternings after the manner of the printed silks, cottons and linens we all love so well, but this is "different" for it is print on wool. Presented for the first time at a recent women's wear exhibit in the Merchandise Mart in Chicago, this gown attracted no-end of attention. Autumn brown and the new-his-season winter rose provide the color scheme for the dress here shown printed with Hawaiian ukuleles and leis motifs.

New Trimming Details.

Trimming details such as velvet collars, and fur borders, bands, and lapels furnish a new and softer note while poplins, yokes, and intricate tailoring details add subtle variety to the classic tailleur.

STYLE NOTES

Hats are daring and extreme. Sleeves are fancifully shirred. Cuff-link fastenings are new.

Smart new coats have slide fasteners. Trend is toward the longer jacket or coat for suits. Sweaters have matching knit triangles to tie over head. Suede jackets with matched skull caps are college favorites.

Try These Short Cuts

Box springs should be brushed regularly. Use a vacuum cleaner over them once a month.

Use a whisk broom and warm water for sprinkling the moisture evenly, when moistening clothes.

To remove chocolate stains, wash in cold water and soap, cover with borax and wash with cold water. Boiling water will remove traces of stains and should be used afterward.

For woodwork that will wash in bathroom and kitchen, two or three coats of flat paint are needed. Finish off with a good enamel.

Leaves may be removed from a head of lettuce without breaking, by cutting around the core with a knife and then holding the head of lettuce under running water.

An attractive way for serving fish of all kinds is in large flat white shells.

New Covers Give Old Furniture Dramatic, Alluring Appeal

Not so many of us can hop downtown and order a whole room full of new furniture just like that. But a lady who's clever and eager can remake her dowdy room almost as effectively with a few yards of something new and alluring. Maybe not expensive but it must be alluring.

Stripes can do a lot in actually rebuilding old furniture. Take one of those overstuffed chairs of the early 1920's, too low, too fat, too pompous looking for this streamlined day. A subtle stripe in sparsely dusty tones will do wonders in slenderizing it, making it seem higher and slimmer—just as they do to a lady.

Suppose the furniture is all obese in a room that's not big enough for it. There the answer is coverings that make it recede. That means that you match the wall in covering the sofa that stands against the wall, and match the rug in covering the chairs that stand out in the room.

You'll be amazed how they merge into the picture and take away that crowded look to the room. And, of course, no big scale patterns.

If your problem isn't overweight but underweight in your furniture, there is another bag of tricks for you. An important fabric, such as high lustre satin, dramatic velvet or a huge scale floral chintz... these are the things that make a small piece of furniture seem more important.

And the bulky trimmings, wool or moss fringe, or even the Victorian rope fringe, add substance to an otherwise inconsequential piece.

If the piece is too high and narrow for its own good, try a large scale floral on it and see how that lowers and widens it. If you have two chairs that should be a pair but aren't cover them to match and nobody will know the difference.

And don't forget that your dining chairs can be slip covered to advantage if their design offends while their construction is still sturdy.

Think more than twice about trimmings when you plan your new furniture covers. There are braids, loops fringes, cordings and tassels to be found that will do decorative things to an otherwise nondescript piece.

Leather is coming into its own for furniture covering, now that it has been developed to the point where it can be satisfactorily cleaned, even in the delicate colors. And it is available in the most exciting range of off-tones as well as brilliant colors.

Fringed fabrics range from rather elaborate tasseled effects to simple fringed stripes. If you want something very-very, consider one of these for a special chair.

It gives an effect combining a fresh texture with a suggestion of a pattern. Puckered fabrics are being shown a lot too for extra nice places, and matelasse is back in fashion, as are the quilted effects.

The most exciting of the quilted fabrics we noted was in a rather large diamond square pattern with contrasting candlewick dots at the intersections... why wouldn't that look like button tufting?

As for colors, there is a wide range from which to choose. Dusty pastels and off-whites are going to be in style for some time to come even though they are hard to use in a busy household. Beige, pale sulphur yellow, and light powder blue will also bear watching.

Set the Color

Delicately colored fabrics often fade when washed. It is always advisable to test the color by washing a small piece of fabric. Various means are used for setting colors and some of the common household methods follow:

Salt, 1 cup to 1 gallon of water.

Vinegar, ½ cup to one gallon of water.

Alum, 1 tablespoon to 1 gallon of water.

Sugar of lead, 1 teaspoon to one gallon of water. (POISON).

Household Hints

To prevent one-sided growth in house plants kept in windows, turn the pots around frequently so the sun will get to all sides.

If white things, like summer clothes, sheets, pillow cases and tablecloths, that are to be stored are wrapped in blue paper or blue cloth they will not take on that yellowish tinge.

Zipper fasteners on furniture coverings make the coverings easy to remove for laundering.

Bluing spots can be removed from white clothing by boiling the articles in clear water.

When washing dirty painted walls with soapy water containing a cleaning powder, the job is made easier if a little flour is added to the water to make a paste. The paste will hold the mixture in the wall long enough for the powder to dissolve the dirt.

Modes and Manners

Q. Please tell me what one is supposed to do if a piece of his silver at his place is unclean?

A. He should ask for another piece to take its place. The hostess or waitress will be glad to replace it. He must assume that it got there by mistake. The opposite is implied when the guest says nothing and then proceeds to wipe the silver on his napkin. Don't ever do this.

Q. When salad is served for buffet suppers, how should the salad platter be arranged?

A. Fit two or three lettuce leaves together to form individual nests. Make as many of these as are required, and fill the centers with the salad mixture. This makes it easy for each person to serve himself from the platter with the aid of a large spoon and a large fork.

Q. Is it proper to raise a dish from the table and continue eating from it?

A. No. Nor should one ever turn a plate around to bring a portion of food nearer.

A certain young lady in this town says her boy friend is very progressive. He wears last year's suit, drives this year's car and lives on next year's salary.

Renovated Kitchen Provides Light-Conditioning

By Jean Prentice

I TALKED, not long ago, with a little elderly lady who had just visited... for the first time... one of the modern new kitchens. She was all sparkle.

"This kitchen," she exclaimed, "had a refrigerator big enough to hold a steer, cupboards everywhere... and the most marvelous light ing!"

She had visited a light-conditioned kitchen. Light-conditioning is one of the newest conveniences to be added to the room that is so important a part of the homemaker's life.

Non-technically, the term means having the right amount and the right kind of lighting available... regardless of whether or not the sky outside is black with night or grey with threatening clouds.

Often a kitchen has the most daylight of any room in the house.

In addition to the ceiling fixture, this renovated kitchen provides ample light at each work-center to ease labor and prevent eyestrain.

Even so, the natural light in the center of many kitchens is only 1/200th of the light at the window sill. This is not enough for quick seeing and nimble fingers at work, and the addition of scientific lighting is the answer.

When a kitchen is light-conditioned, you do not stand at the sink or stove with your shadow falling on your work.

There are side-wall fixtures or lamps with 60-watt bulbs over each work area, and a 100 or 150-watt bulb in the center ceiling fixture to give general lighting.

In the light-conditioned kitchen shown here, note the smartly-styled center ceiling fixture, the new "spot light" lighting above the sink, and a matching fixture at the cupboard.

Plum Pudding

Along with those delicious fruit-cakes and other goodies being prepared these days for the Holidays, don't overlook plum pudding. One does not have to be English to enjoy plum pudding for Christmas dinner. For such a treat the following ingredients are needed:

1 lb. raisins
1 lb. currants
4 pound candied orange peel
4 lb. citron
½ lb. chopped suet
½ lb. bread crumbs
4 lb. flour
½ lb. brown sugar
1 grated nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
1 cup grape juice
8 eggs

Cut the candied orange peel into small pieces. Mix all the fruit thoroughly, then sift the flour with spices, and sprinkle these dry ingredients on the fruit as you put the fruit in layers in a large bowl. Mix with the hands. Next add the butter creamed with the sugar and eggs (beaten slightly). Finally, add the grape juice and cook for four hours in a slow oven. If you wish to steam your pudding, pour the mixture into greased tins, cover tightly and steam. If the pudding feels wet after steaming, dry it in a slow oven.

Ring Around the Moon

Studies of the weather which follow the appearance of a ring around the moon show that this phenomenon does not herald the approach of stormy or wet weather. Neither rings around the moon nor changes of the phases of the moon appear to affect weather, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. The moon has been an object of superstition from early times, because it is the most conspicuous body in the night heavens. However, most of the popular beliefs about it are false, and when a ring appears around the moon the weather which follows may be wet, but it is just as likely to be fine.

Grain Judging Team Ranks 4th in Contest

John Blackburn and Robert Deunman, members of the Antioch High school Grain Judging and Identification team, competed in the sectional contest at Sycamore last Saturday, tying for fourth place. Representatives of 24 schools competed.

Of the 96 boys entered in the contest, John Blackburn tied for eighth place with a score of 348 points out of a possible 400. He judged five of the eight grain rings perfectly. By virtue of their high ranking at the sectional contest the Antioch boys won the privilege of competing in the annual state grain judging contest to be held in June at Urbana.

Christmas Seals Sale Nearly $500 Less Than Last Year

Secretary Tells Needs of Funds to Carry on the Work in County

"The family's struggle to conquer disease of tuberculosis is a drama, and all the social and scientific forces of the community are called upon to rush to its aid. The individual person can help do this by buying and using Christmas Seals. See that every letter and package is stamped with a Christmas Seal." The foregoing is the statement of Miss Orpha White, executive secretary of the Lake County Tuberculosis association, who is in constant contact with tuberculosis cases in this county.

Says Miss White:

"I would like to bring you an accurate sympathetic story of a family of Lake County and the struggle it has against its known enemy, tuberculosis.

"A trip into a home where the grandmother is caring for four youngsters: the oldest six years old, the youngest a few months. The mother who was in the Sanatorium with an active case of tuberculosis died last summer. The yearning of these children for a mother's love is pathetic. We cannot supply this but we can give them the care they need in combating tuberculosis. These children have been tuberculin tested and X-rayed in our clinic. Three have been infected with tuberculosis through direct contact with the mother. Visits are made into the home at stated intervals and the children are taken to our clinic for periodical examinations. We are trying at the present to teach the grandmother how to care for these children so that they may have a chance to become healthful adults and an asset to the community rather than a liability.

"This is one of many families having supervised care through the aid of funds from the sale of Christmas Seals. The returns from the Christmas Seal Sale is falling down this year, and we are greatly concerned about the care of these families another year unless more people of Lake County respond to our pleas. Will you not buy and use Christmas Seals and help save our children from tuberculosis? Every contribution large or small is a great help in building up the necessary fund to carry on another year."

Love resists competition. It gives all and demands all.

Beryl Bonner Receives 4-H Style Revue Medal

Miss Beryl Bonner of Lake Villa, champion of the 4-H Style Revue, was the recipient of a gold medal at the 1937 achievement program held Thursday at Libertyville high school. Three handsome gold pins were presented to the second, third and fourth place winners in the contest. They were Clarice Minto, Antioch, Marion Stahl, Prairie View, and Marjorie Grier, Gurnee. Silver Pins were presented to other participants.

These prizes together with an all-expense trip to Chicago for the state champion are provided by Chicago Mail Order company, which sponsors the contest annually among the 600,000 girls enrolled in club work. The contest is conducted by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club work in cooperation with Extension agents.

Grade School Classes Plan Xmas Programs

Members of the various grade school classes are hard at work preparing Christmas programs to be presented next Tuesday, the last day of school before the opening of the annual Christmas vacation.

Plays, pantomimes and readings, all written by the children themselves, will make up most of the class room programs. Special Christmas music will also be featured.

Parents of all the students are invited to be present for the festivities.

AMUSEMENTS

"SPUTTERS," THE PLAY AT CRYSTAL TONIGHT

"Sputters" is the western comedy to be presented tonight by the J. B. Rotnour Players at the Crystal theatre. J. B. says it is a fast moving and rollicking western comedy drama.

Next Thursday the play will be "Tumbleweed," one of the very latest domestic comedies. Mr. Rotnour announces the return of Miss Mary Wellman to the company. She will be remembered and welcomed back by her many friends.

The company continues to draw capacity houses each Thursday night. Free merchants' tickets may be had from any merchant listed in the Crystal ad, and the entire family may attend at small cost, and will be assured of two hours of cleaneut amusement by a cast of players in the flesh. Doors open at 7:30 and curtain at 8:15 sharp.

LOCAL HOT SPOT EXPOSED

If you believe in signs—or have strong enough imagination, there's one spot in Antioch which you will find balmy even in this frigid weather. And it's on the outside, too. If you don't believe it, have a look at the large thermometer hanging in front of the Kelly blacksmith shop, between Powles' Market and the Antioch Theatre, the next time you pass. Blow hot or cold—it's always 80 degrees at Kelly's.

Oracles Called "Hangeests"
Oracles are called "hangeests" because they place their nests on limbs in such a manner that they hang down. As the nests sway in the wind, we may imagine that the baby birds are being rocked to sleep.
